2nd EDUC Online Output Sharing Themed Event

Speakers

Daniël Hübner

Daniël is the Project Officer for EDUC on behalf of the European Education and Culture Executive Agency (EACEA). He has been active in EU grant management for over 5 years working with a wide range of beneficiaries in the framework of the Erasmus+ programme, with a specific focus on Higher Education and the European Universities initiative. His academic background is in Political Science and European Studies, having graduated from Ludwig Maximilian University of Munich and Maastricht University.

Frederic Renouard

Frederic is the coordinator of the EDUC European University Alliance at the University of Rennes since 2019. He has a strong interest in national and European public policies related to higher education, research, and innovation. He has a 15 years' experience in deploying European and national cooperation programs fostering change in higher education, research and innovation organizations. He joined the University of Rennes in 2010 to develop the EIT Digital Center in Rennes where he led initiatives to foster European cooperation in entrepreneurial education and innovation. In EDUC, one of Frédéric's focuses is advancing the internationalization of curricula "at home".

Sujal Chouhan

Sujal is an EDUC European Alliance Project Officer at the University of Rennes. He has extensively worked in Life-Long Learning and education with companies for 21 years at the Chamber of Commerce and Industry, as a teacher-trainer, then managing the department on 3 sites (17 languages, 50 trainers) and as Head of International Relations for apprenticeship. He worked on the innovative initiative with European Deputy Jean Arthuis on buidling a framework for long-stay mobility for apprentices in Europe. He has been piloting Internationalisation of Curricula activities within the EDUC Alliance since 2020. Some of his current activities focus on deploying various forms of mobility, developing short-format programmes, establishing a summer school framework, and raising PhD students' awareness of the professional world.

Speakers

Meagin van der Wetshuizen

Meagin is a coordinator at the Technical University of Eindhoven, working on executing and integrating of the EuroTeQ University Alliance, particularly the EuroTeQ Campus. She focuses on change management and aligning alliance and institutional activities to create a seamless education experience. Meagin brings prior experience as a project manager in the public sector, adding depth to her cross-sector approach to innovation and collaboration.

Ben Parker

Ben is a project manager for the EuroTeQ engineering university alliance, working to improve the scale, quality, and ease of mobility for students and staff across the partner universities and beyond. He is currently leading the work around the EuroTeQ virtual campus, plus the automated joint course catalogue, which requires increased collaboration and creativity between the alliance partners – building something future-proof and interoperable. Ben has worked across Higher Education, Vocational Education, and Adult Skills commissioning.

Victor Le Cam

Victor is a EUniWell project manager at the International Relations Office of Nantes Université. Since September 2023, he has been coordinating the EUniWell Center for Learning— a Work Package dedicated to structuring the Alliance's educational offerings around three main focuses: i) implementing a EUniWell Course Catalogue, ii) launching joint degree programmes, iii) fostering open education. From 2021 to 2023, he served as the coordinator of the EUNICE Alliance at Université Polytechnique Hauts-de-France and was also the leader of the Work Package dedicated to Education for the Alliance. Before being involved in European University Alliances, he spent seven years teaching French as a foreign language at foreign higher education institutions and within the French diplomatic network.
